1 STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE DECIDED

2 1. Whether the proposed Settlement Agreements fall within the “range of possible 3 approval,” and should, therefore, be preliminarily approved by the Court?

4 2. Whether the proposed Settlement Classes meet the requirements of Federal Rule

6 3. Whether Plaintiffs’ Interim Lead Counsel should be appointed as Settlement 7 Class Counsel and named Plaintiffs appointed as Class Representatives on behalf of the 8 Settlement Classes?

9 4. Whether there is cause to provisionally establish a litigation expense fund and 10 the proper amount of such fund that should be provisionally established by the Court?

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

This amendment supplements Plaintiffs' pending Motion for Preliminary Approval of Settlements to incorporate an additional settlement with Cathay Pacific Airways, Limited.¹ The Court should preliminarily approve the Settlements set forth more fully below because they are within the range of possible approval and justify giving notice to the Class members and holding a fairness hearing. The Settlements are the result of informed and contested negotiations, and are fair, reasonable, and adequate. See Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 1276 (9th Cir. 1992). The monetary recovery for the class is significant, and the cooperation agreements greatly strengthen Plaintiffs' case against the non-Settling Defendants.

Applying Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Court should certify the Classes for purposes of settlement. Here, Rule 23(a)'s requirements of numerosity, commonality, typicality, and adequacy are met. See, e.g., Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1019 (9th Cir. 1998); In re TFT-LCD (Flat Panel) Antitrust Litig., 267 F.R.D. 291, 300 (N.D. Cal. 2010); In re Rubber Chemicals Antitrust Litig., 232 F.R.D. 346, 350-51 (N.D. Cal. 2005). Likewise Rule 23(b) is satisfied because common questions predominate and a class action is superior to pursuing numerous individual cases. See In re Static Random Access Memory (SRAM) Antitrust Litig., 264 F.R.D. 603, 615 (N.D. Cal. 2009); In re Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litig., M 02-1486 PJH, 2006 WL 1530166 (N.D. Cal. June 5, 2006).

Finally, under Rule 23(g), class certification requires that the Court appoint class counsel. Based on their experience and vigorous prosecution of this action, Interim Co-Lead Counsel, Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy and Hausfeld LLP, should be appointed as Settlement Class Counsel for purposes of these Settlements, and named Plaintiffs should be appointed as Class Representatives for the Settlement Classes.

¹ Plaintiffs have settlements in principle with two additional defendants and are working to have executed settlement agreements within the next few days. These will be presented to the Court expeditiously for preliminary approval.

1 MEMORANDUM AND POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, Plaintiffs hereby move this Court for an 4 order preliminarily approving class action Settlements reached with Defendants Japan Airlines
 5 International Company, Ltd (“JAL”), Societe Air France (“Air France”), Vietnam Airlines
 6 Company, Ltd (“VN”), Thai Airways International Public Company, Ltd (“Thai Airways”), 7 Malaysian Airline System Berhad (“Malaysian Air”), and Cathay Pacific Airways, Limited.
 8 (“CX”) (collectively, “Settling Defendants”). Copies of the Settlement Agreements are attached 9 to the Amended Declaration of Christopher L. Lebsack (“Lebsack Decl.”), as Exhibits 1 10 through 6, respectively. These Settlements resolve all claims brought by Plaintiffs against 11 Settling Defendants, who will pay a combined $29,752,000, and have each agreed to cooperate 12 with Plaintiffs’ by providing information related to the existence, scope, and implementation of 13 the conspiracy alleged in the Second Amended Consolidated Class Action Complaint (“SAC”).
 14 Lebsack Decl. ¶¶ 23-24.

15 These Settlements are within the range of possible approval and in the best interests of 16 all Class members. Accordingly, Plaintiffs seek an order: preliminarily approving the 17 Settlement Agreements, provisionally certifying the Settlement Classes, and appointing 18 Plaintiffs’ Interim Co-Lead Counsel as Settlement Class Counsel and named plaintiffs as Class 19 Representatives.² Plaintiffs also request creation of a litigation expense fund.

20 II. SETTLEMENT NEGOTIATIONS

21 Plaintiffs’ Interim Co-Lead Counsel (“Class Counsel”) and counsel for each Settling 22 Defendant engaged in extensive arm’s length negotiations before reaching these Settlements.
 23 See Lebsack Decl. ¶¶ 3-27 (describing negotiation scope and details). Class Counsel and 24 defense counsel, all experienced and skilled attorneys, vigorously advocated their respective 25 clients’ positions. Initial negotiations beginning in 2008 and continuing through 2014, were 26 conducted via telephone conferences, in-person meetings, and written correspondence. Lebsack 27 Decl. ¶ 24. The first Settlement, with JAL, was reached with the assistance of a mediator, as was 28 ² Plaintiffs will submit a proposed notice plan to the Court in the near future.

1 the settlement with CX. Id. ¶¶ 3, 19.

2 Before each subsequent Settlement was reached, Plaintiffs spent significant time
 3 investigating the claims against each Settling Defendant, including through numerous proffer
 4 sessions with JAL. Class Counsel thus had significant knowledge of Defendants' conspiratorial 5 conduct and the strengths and weaknesses of Plaintiffs' claims and Defendants' asserted 6 defenses. Class Counsel used the extensive JAL proffer, as well as other discovery materials, to 7 evaluate each Settling Defendant's position and negotiate a fair settlement. Id. ¶¶ 6, 9, 12, 15, 18, 8 21. Class Counsel believe these Settlements, including over $29 million in recovery and 9 extensive cooperation obligations that will assist the proposed Classes in prosecuting this action, 10 are fair, reasonable, and adequate to the Classes. Plaintiffs respectfully submit that these 11 Settlements are in the best interests of the Classes, and should be preliminarily approved by the 12 Court.

13 III. THE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENTS

14 The proposed Settlement Agreements resolve all claims against Settling Defendants in 15 the alleged conspiracy to fix or stabilize prices for air passenger travel, including associated 16 surcharges, for international flights involving at least one flight segment between the United 17 States and Asia/Oceania. The Classes will receive $29,752,000 and significant cooperation.
 18 See Lebsock Decl. ¶¶ 22-23, Exs. 1-6. The terms of the Agreements are outlined below.

19 A. The Settlement Classes

20 The proposed Settlement Classes are defined as follows:

21 JAL SETTLEMENT CLASS:

22 All persons and entities that purchased passenger air transportation that included
 23 at least one flight segment between the United States and Asia or Oceania from 24 Defendants, or any predecessor, subsidiary, or affiliate thereof, at any time 25 between January 1, 2000 and the Effective Date. Excluded from the class are 26 purchasers of passenger air transportation directly between the United States and 27 the Republic of Korea purchased from Korea Air Lines, Ltd. and/or Asiana 28 Airlines, Inc. Also excluded from the class are governmental entities, Defendants, any parent, subsidiary, or affiliate thereof, and Defendants' officers, directors, employees and immediate families.³

³ See Lebsock Decl., Ex. 1, ¶ 3 (Amended JAL Settlement Agreement).

1 AIR FRANCE/VN SETTLEMENT CLASS:

2 All persons and entities that purchased passenger air transportation that included
 3 at least one flight segment between the United States and Asia or Oceania from 4 Defendants or their co-conspirators, or any predecessor, subsidiary or affiliate
 5 thereof, at any time between January 1, 2000 and the Effective Date. Excluded 6 from the class are purchases of passenger air transportation between the United 7 States and the Republic of South Korea purchased from Korea Air Lines, Ltd. and 8 /or Asiana Airlines, Inc. Also excluded from the class are governmental entities, 9 Defendants, former defendants in the Actions, any parent, subsidiary, or affiliate
 10 thereof, and Defendants' officers, directors, employees and immediate families.⁴

11 THAI AIRWAYS SETTLEMENT CLASS:

12 All persons and entities that purchased passenger air transportation that included
 13 at least one flight segment between the United States and Asia or Oceania from 14 Defendants, or any predecessor, subsidiary or affiliate thereof, at any time
 15 between January 1, 2000 and the Effective Date. Excluded from the class are 16 governmental entities, Defendants, former Defendants in the Action, any parent, 17 subsidiary or affiliate thereof, and Defendants' officers, directors, employees and 18 immediate families.⁵

19 MALAYSIAN AIR SETTLEMENT CLASS:

20 All persons and entities that purchased passenger air transportation that included 21 at least one flight segment between the United States and Asia/Oceania from 22 Defendants or their co-conspirators, or any predecessor, subsidiary or affiliate
 23 thereof, at any time between January 1, 2000 and the Effective Date. Excluded 24 from the class are purchases of passenger air transportation between the United 25 States and the Republic of South Korea purchased from Korean Air Lines, Ltd.
 26 and/or Asiana Airlines, Inc. Also excluded from the class are governmental 27 entities, Defendants, former defendants in the Actions, any parent, subsidiary or 28 affiliate thereof, and Defendants' officers, directors, employees or immediate families.⁶

CX SETTLEMENT CLASS:

All persons and entities that purchased passenger air transportation that included
 at least one flight segment between the United States and Asia or Oceania from Defendants, or any predecessor, subsidiary or affiliate thereof, at any time between January 1, 2000 and the Effective Date. Excluded from the class are purchases of passenger air transportation between the United States and the Republic of South Korea purchased from Korean Air Lines, Ltd. and/or Asiana Airlines, Inc. Also excluded from the class are governmental entities, ⁴ See Lebsok Decl. Ex. 2, ¶ 3(Amended Air France Settlement Agreement); Ex. 3, ¶ 3 (Amended VN Settlement Agreement).

⁵ See Lebsok Decl. Ex. 4, ¶ 3 (Thai Airways Settlement Agreement).

⁶ See Lebsok Decl. Ex. 5 ¶ 3 (Malaysian Air Settlement Agreement).

1 Defendants, former defendants in the Actions, any parent, subsidiary or affiliate
 2 thereof, and Defendants' officers, directors, employees and immediate families.⁷

4 B. Consideration Provided by the Settlement Agreements

5 Together, the Settling Defendants agreed to pay $29,752,,000, with JAL paying $10 6 million, Air France paying $867,000, VN paying $735,000, Thai Airways paying $9,700,000 7 million, Malaysian Air paying $950,000, and CX paying $7,500,000. Lebsok Decl. ¶ 22. The 8 Settlements also confer significant non-monetary benefits. Each Settling Defendant has agreed 9 to cooperate with Plaintiffs in the prosecution of this action by providing information relating 10 to Plaintiffs' allegations, including through (1) attorney proffers; (2) interviews of persons with 11 knowledge regarding the conspiratorial conduct alleged in Plaintiffs' SAC; (3) the production 12 of relevant documents, including assistance in establishing the admissibility of the documents 13 produced; and (4) for all settlements one or more witnesses to establish the foundation of 14 documents or data necessary for summary judgment and trial. Id. ¶ 23.

15 For example, the JAL Settlement Agreement provides that JAL will make up to four 16 employees available to provide declarations concerning factual matters asserted in summary 17 judgment motions, and provide up to 40 hours of attorney proffer time – something Interim 18 Co-Lead Counsel has already availed itself of in prosecuting this action. See Ex. 1 ¶ 13.1; 19 see also Ex. 2 ¶ 14.1 (two employees made available and up to three meetings for attorney 20 proffers); Ex. 3 ¶ 14.1 (same); Ex. 4 ¶ 15.1 (three employees made available and up to three 21 meetings for attorney proffers); Ex. 5 ¶ 14.1 (two employees made available); and Ex. 6 ¶ 22 14.1(two employees and three meetings for attorney proffers). These cooperation clauses are 23 a substantial benefit to the Settlement Classes.

24 C. Releases for the Settling Defendants

25 Plaintiffs agreed to release Malaysian Air, VN, Thai Airways, Air France, and CX from 26 all claims arising from or relating to the pricing of passenger air transportation between the 27 United States and Asia/Oceania to the extent that the travel originated in the United States with 28 respect to the pricing of fuel surcharges or any other element or component of pricing that were ⁷*See* Lebsok Decl. Ex. 6 ¶ 3 (CX Settlement Agreement).

1 or could have been alleged in the Consolidated Class Action Complaints. Ex. 2 ¶¶ 1.10, 9.1; 2 Ex. 3 ¶¶ 1.10, 9.1; Ex 4 ¶¶ 1.16, 9.1; Ex. 5 ¶¶ 1.10, 9.1; and Ex. 6 ¶¶ 1.10, 9.1. The release
 3 provided to JAL is broader in that it is not limited to U.S. originating travel. Ex. 1 ¶¶ 1.11, 2, 4 8.1.

5 The Settlement Agreements specifically preserve Settlement Class members' rights
 6 against any co-conspirator or non-Settling Defendant. Ex. 1 ¶ 9; Ex. 2 ¶ 10; Ex. 3 ¶ 10; Ex. 4 7 ¶ 10; Ex. 5 ¶ 10; Ex. 6 ¶ 10. Furthermore, the sales of passenger air transportation by 8 Settling Defendants remain in the case as a potential basis for damage claims and shall be 9 part of any joint and several liability claims against the non-settling Defendants.

10 IV. THE COURT SHOULD PRELIMINARILY APPROVE THE SETTLEMENTS

11 A. Class Action Settlement Procedure

12 Proposed class action settlements must be approved by the Court. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e).
 13 Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court certify the proposed Settlement Classes, 14 preliminarily approve the Settlements, and appoint Plaintiffs' Interim Co-Lead Counsel as 15 Settlement Class Counsel. See A. Conte & H.B. Newberg, NEWBERG ON CLASS ACTIONS, §
 16 11.25 (4th ed. 2002) ("Newberg") (outlining the steps of preliminary approval and class 17 certification, notice, and a fairness hearing, which are required prior to final approval of a class 18 settlement and are designed to safeguard the rights of absent class members).

19 B. Standards for Settlement Approval

20 "[T]here is an overriding public interest in settling and quieting litigation . . .
 21 particularly . . . in class action suits." Van Bronkhorst v. Safeco Corp., 529 F.2d 943, 950 (9th 22 Cir. 1976); Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 1276 (9th Cir. 1992). The district 23 court has substantial discretion in deciding to approve a class action settlement. See Churchill 24 Vill., L.L.C. v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 575 (9th Cir. 2004). Preliminary approval requires 25 only that the terms of the proposed settlement fall within the "range of possible approval." See 26 Vasquez v. Coast Valley Roofing, Inc., 670 F. Supp. 2d 1114, 1125 (E.D. Cal. 2009); In re
 27 Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d 1078, 1079 (N.D. Cal. 2007). Preliminary approval 28 is appropriate when the terms are "sufficient to warrant public notice and a hearing." See

1 Manual for Complex Litigation, Fourth, § 13.14 (2004) (“Manual”).

2 Preliminary approval should be granted “[w]here the proposed settlement appears to be 3 the product of serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, does 4 not improperly grant preferential treatment to class representatives or segments of the class and 5 falls within the range of possible approval.” In re NASDAQ Mkt.-Makers Antitrust Litig., 176 6 F.R.D. 99, 102 (S.D.N.Y. 1997). Application of these factors here supports preliminary 7 approval of the Settlements. As shown below, the proposed Settlements are fair, reasonable, 8 and adequate. Therefore, the Court should allow notice of the Settlements to be disseminated 9 to the Settlement Classes.

10 C. The Proposed Settlements are Within the Range of Reasonableness

11 The proposed Settlements are well within the reasonable range. First, the Settlements 12 are entitled to “an initial presumption of fairness” because they resulted from arm’s length 13 negotiations among experienced counsel. See Newberg § 11.41. These negotiations occurred 14 over a span of years and collectively involved telephonic and face to face meetings; substantial 15 correspondence; and the review of industry materials, documents produced by the Settling 16 Defendants, and transactional data produced in this litigation. The negotiations were sharply 17 contested and conducted in good faith. Lebsack Decl. ¶ 24. “‘Great weight’ is given to the 18 recommendation of counsel, who are most closely acquainted with the facts of the underlying 19 litigation.” Nat’l Rural Telecommunications Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 528 20 (C.D. Cal. 2004). Thus, “the trial judge, absent fraud, collusion, or the like, should be hesitant 21 to substitute its own judgment for that of counsel.” Id. (internal citation omitted). Plaintiffs’ 22 counsel believes that these Settlements are in the best interests of the Classes.

23 Second, the total Settlement Amount of $29,752,000 is significant and compares 24 favorably to other antitrust settlements reached prior to the close of discovery. See, e.g., In re
Nasdaq Mkt.-Makers Antitrust Litig., 176 F.R.D. 99 (approving settlements with all defendants 25 totaling $9,940,000). Moreover, the damages Plaintiffs suffered due to the Settling 26 Defendants’ alleged conduct remain in the case, and, under joint and several liability, are 27 recoverable from other Defendants. See In re Auto. Refinishing Paint Antitrust Litig., MDL 28

1 1426, 2003 WL 23316645, at *2 (E.D. Pa. Sept. 5, 2003) (preliminarily approving settlement 2 agreement because, inter alia, “this settlement does not affect the joint and several liability of 3 the remaining Defendants in this alleged conspiracy”).

4 Third, the Settling Defendants must provide significant cooperation to Plaintiffs in 5 pursuing this case against the non-settling Defendants, including attorney proffers and 6 making witnesses available for interviews with personal knowledge relating to the 7 allegations of conspiratorial conduct in Plaintiffs’ SAC. See Section III.B, supra. “The 8 provision of such assistance is a substantial benefit to the classes and strongly militates 9 toward approval of the Settlement Agreement.” In re Linerboard Antitrust Litig., 292 F.
 10 Supp. 2d 631, 643 (E.D. Pa. 2003). This cooperation will save time, reduce costs, and 11 provide access to information regarding the transpacific air passenger conspiracy that might 12 otherwise not be available to Plaintiffs. See In re Mid-Atl. Toyota Antitrust Litig., 564 F.
 13 Supp. 1379, 1386 (D. Md. 1983) (finding a defendant’s agreement not to contest provision 14 of certain discovery “is an appropriate factor for a court to consider in approving a 15 settlement”); In re Corrugated Container Antitrust Litig., M.D.L. 310, 1981 WL 2093, at *16 16 (S.D. Tex. June 4, 1981), aff’d, 659 F.2d 1322 (5th Cir. 1981) (finding that “[t]he cooperation 17 clauses constituted a substantial benefit to the class”).

18 Finally, the Settlements will not adversely affect the remainder of the case. These 19 Settlements preserve Plaintiffs’ right to litigate against non-settling Defendants for the entire 20 amount of Plaintiffs’ damages based on joint and several liability. Lebsock Decl. ¶ 25. In fact, 21 these Settlements may aid in the ultimate resolution of this case. “In complex litigation with a 22 plaintiff class, ‘partial settlements often play a vital role in resolving class actions.’” Agretti v.
 23 ANR Freight Sys., Inc., 982 F.2d 242, 247 (7th Cir. 1992) (internal quotation omitted).

24 For these reasons, the proposed Settlements meet the judicially established criteria for 25 class action settlements and warrant notice of their terms to the members of the Classes.

26 V. THE COURT SHOULD PROVISIONALLY CERTIFY THE SETTLEMENT 27 CLASSES

28 The Court should provisionally certify the Settlement Classes contemplated by the 1 Settlement Agreements. It is well-established that price-fixing actions like this are appropriate

 2 for class certification. See, e.g., In re TFT-LCD (Flat Panel) Antitrust Litig., 267 F.R.D. 291
 3 (N.D. Cal. 2010) (“LCD”); In re Static Random Access (SRAM) Antitrust Litig., C0701819CW, 4 2008 WL 4447592 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 29, 2008); In re Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM)
 5 Antitrust Litig., M 02-1486 PJH, 2006 WL 1530166 (N.D. Cal. June 5, 2006) (“DRAM”); In re
 6 Rubber Chemicals Antitrust Litig., 232 F.R.D. 346, 350 (N.D. Cal. 2005) (“Rubber Chems.”).

7 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 provides that a court should certify a class action 8 where, as here, Plaintiffs satisfy the prerequisites of Rule 23(a) (numerosity, commonality, 9 typicality, and adequacy) and 23(b) (predominance and superiority).⁸ This does not involve 10 determination of whether Plaintiffs will ultimately prevail on the substantive merits of their 11 claims. Eisen v. Carlisle & Jacquelin, 417 U.S. 156, 177-78 (1974); see also Blackie v. Barrack, 12 524 F.2d 891, 901 (9th Cir. 1975) (finding that on class certification motion, plaintiffs’ 13 substantive allegations are accepted as true); Rubber Chems., 232 F.R.D. at 350 (same). The 14 only issue is whether Plaintiffs satisfy the Rule 23 requirements. Eisen, 417 U.S. at 178.

15 A. The Proposed Settlement Classes Satisfy Rule 23(a)

16 1. The Classes are so numerous that joinder is impracticable.

17 The first requirement for maintaining a class action is that its members are so numerous 18 that joinder would be impracticable. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1). Courts have generally found that 19 the numerosity requirement is satisfied when class members exceed forty. Newberg § 18:4; Or.
 20 Laborers-Emps. Health & Welfare Trust Fund v. Philip Morris, Inc., 188 F.R.D. 365, 372-73 21 (D. Or. 1998). Geographic dispersal of plaintiffs may also support a finding that joinder is 22 “impracticable.” Rubber Chems., 232 F.R.D. at 350-51; see also LCD, 267 F.R.D. at 300 23 (stating that given the nature of the LCD market, “common sense dictates that joinder would be 24 impracticable”). Here, each Settlement Class consists of hundreds of thousands of members 25 who purchased qualifying airfare involving at least one flight segment between the United

26
 27 ⁸ Rule 23(b)(3)’s “manageability” requirements need not be satisfied in order to certify a settlement class. Amchem 28 Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 (1997) (stating that when “[c]onfronted with a request for settlement-only class certification, a district court need not inquire whether the case, if tried, would present intractable management problems, . . . for the proposal is that there be no trial.”).

1 States and Asia/Oceania. The proposed Settlement Classes satisfy the numerosity requirement.

2 2. This case involves common questions of law and fact.

3 The second prerequisite to class certification is the existence of “questions of law or fact 4 common to the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2). The Ninth Circuit has made clear that the 5 commonality requirement is to be “construed permissively.” Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 6 F.3d 1011, 1019 (9th Cir. 1998). Commonality is satisfied by the existence of a single common 7 issue. Blackie, 524 F.2d at 901. “Courts consistently have held that the very nature of a 8 conspiracy antitrust action compels a finding that common questions of law and fact exist.”
 9 Rubber Chems., 232 F.R.D. at 351 (internal citation omitted). Here, all class members share 10 common questions of law and fact that revolve around the existence, scope, effectiveness, and 11 implementation of Defendants’ conspiracy, and that are central to each class members’ claims.
 12 Similar questions have satisfied the commonality requirement in antitrust class actions in this 13 District. LCD, 267 F.R.D. at 300 (stating “the very nature of a conspiracy antitrust action 14 compels a finding that common questions of law and fact exist”) (citing Rubber Chems., 232 15 F.R.D. at 351; DRAM, 2006 WL 1530166, at *3).

16 3. Representative Plaintiffs’ claims are typical of the claims of the Classes.

17 “Under [Rule 23]’s permissive standards, representative claims are ‘typical’ if they are 18 reasonably co-extensive with those of absent class members; they need not be substantially 19 identical.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020. “Generally, the class representatives ‘must be part of 20 the class and possess the same interest and suffer the same injury as the class members.’” 21 LCD, 267 F.R.D. at 300 (quoting Gen. Tel. Co. of the Sw. v. Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 156 (1982)).

22 Typicality is easily satisfied in horizontal price-fixing cases because “where[] it is 23 alleged that the defendants engaged in a common scheme relative to all members of the class, 24 there is a strong assumption that the claims of the representative parties will be typical of the 25 absent class members.” In re Catfish Antitrust Litig., 826 F. Supp. 1019, 1035 (N.D. Miss.
 26 1993); In re Citric Acid Antitrust Litig., No. 95-1092, 1996 WL 655791, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Oct.
 27 2, 1996) (“Citric Acid”). As such, factual differences among individual transactions or in the 28 amount of damages do not undermine typicality, so long as the damages suffered by Plaintiffs

1 and the Classes arise from the purchase of products affected by the conspiracy. See Armstrong
 2 v. Davis, 275 F.3d 849, 869 (9th Cir. 2001); DRAM, 2006 WL 1530166, at *33. Here, 3 Plaintiffs assert the same claims on behalf of themselves and the proposed Classes—that they 4 purchased air passenger tickets from Defendants and were overcharged due to the antitrust 5 conspiracy between the Settling Defendants and their co-conspirators. Therefore, Plaintiffs' 6 claims are typical of the claims of the other class members, and certification is appropriate.

7 4. Representative Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately represent the interests 8 of the Classes, and should be appointed as Class Representatives.

9 A representative plaintiff is an adequate representative of the class if he or she: (1) does 10 not have any interests antagonistic to or in conflict with the interests of the class; and (2) is 11 represented by qualified counsel who will vigorously prosecute the class's interests. Hanlon, 12 150 F.3d at 1020. Here, representative Plaintiffs satisfy both of these requirements. The 13 interests of Plaintiffs and Class members are aligned because they all suffered similar injury in 14 the form of higher airline ticket prices for travel from the United States to Asia/Oceania due to 15 Defendants' conspiracy, and all seek the same relief. Plaintiffs understand the allegations in 16 this case, and have reviewed pleadings, responded to discovery, and produced the documents 17 requested. Lebsack Decl. ¶ 27. They have been, or soon will be, deposed. Id. By proving 18 their own claims, Plaintiffs will necessarily prove the claims of their fellow Class members; as 19 such they should be named as Class Representatives for the Settlement Classes.

20 Further, Plaintiffs are represented by highly qualified counsel. Interim Co-Lead Counsel 21 have successfully prosecuted numerous antitrust class actions throughout the United States, and 22 are committed to vigorously prosecuting this action on behalf of the Classes. They have 23 undertaken the responsibilities assigned by the Court and have directed the efforts of other 24 Plaintiffs' counsel. Counsel's prosecution of this case, and indeed, these Settlements, amply 25 demonstrate their diligence and competence. Therefore, the requirements of Rule 23(a)(4) are 26 satisfied.

27 ///

28 ///

1 B. The Proposed Settlement Classes Satisfy the Requirements of Rule 23(b)(3)

2 1. Common questions of law or fact predominate over individual questions.

3 “Courts have frequently found that whether a price-fixing conspiracy exists is a 4 common question that predominates over other issues because proof of an alleged conspiracy 5 will focus on defendants’ conduct and not on the conduct of individual class members.” LCD, 6 267 F.R.D. at 310. Courts have held that this issue alone is sufficient to satisfy the 7 predominance requirement. See, e.g., In re Static Random Access Memory (SRAM) Antitrust 8 Litig., 264 F.R.D. 603, 612-614 (N.D. Cal. 2009) (“SRAM”); Rubber Chems., 232 F.R.D. at 9 353; Citic Acid, 1996 WL 655791, at *8. Therefore, common issues relating to the existence 10 and effect of the alleged conspiracy on air passenger ticket prices for travel from the United 11 States to Asia/Oceania predominate over any questions arguably affecting individual class 12 members. Proof of how Defendants implemented and enforced their conspiracy will also be 13 common to the Classes and predicated on establishing the existence of Defendants’ antitrust 14 conspiracy. These overriding issues satisfy the predominance requirement.⁹

15 2. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and 16 efficient adjudication of this case.

17 “[I]f common questions are found to predominate in an antitrust action, then courts 18 generally have ruled that the superiority prerequisite of Rule 23(b)(3) is satisfied.” Wright, 19 Miller & Kane, Federal Practice and Procedure: Civil Procedure § 1781 at 254-55 (3d ed.
 20 2004). That is because in price-fixing cases, “the damages of individual indirect purchasers are 21 likely to be too small to justify litigation, but a class action would offer those with small claims 22 the opportunity for meaningful redress.” SRAM, 264 F.R.D. at 615. Here, a class action is 23 superior to individual litigation because “[n]umerous individual actions would be expensive 24 and time-consuming and would create the danger of conflicting decisions as to persons 25 similarly situated.” Lerwill v. Inflight Motion Pictures, Inc., 582 F.2d 507, 512 (9th Cir. 1978).

26
 27 ⁹ Potential individualized damages do not defeat predominance. See, e.g., In re Visa Check/Master Money Antitrust 28 Litig., 280 F.3d 124, 138 (2d Cir. 2001) (citing and discussing cases); DRAM, 2006 WL 1530166, at *47 (holding that courts may certify classes “regardless of whether some members of the class negotiated price individually, or whether—as here—differences among product type, customer class, and method of purchase existed.”).

1 Further, requiring individual cases would deprive many class members of any practical 2 means of redress. Because prosecution of an antitrust conspiracy against economically 3 powerful defendants is difficult and expensive, most class members would be effectively 4 foreclosed from pursuing their claims absent class certification. See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1023 5 (“Many claims [that] could not be successfully asserted individually . . . would not only 6 unnecessarily burden the judiciary, but would prove uneconomic for potential plaintiffs.”); see 7 also SRAM, 264 F.R.D. at 615. Moreover, separate adjudication of claims creates a risk of 8 inconsistent rulings, which further favors class treatment. Therefore, a class action is the 9 superior method of adjudicating the claims raised in this case.

10 C. The Court Should Appoint Plaintiffs' Interim Co-Lead Counsel as 11 Settlement Class Counsel

12 “An order certifying a class action . . . must appoint class counsel under Rule 23(g).” 13 Rule 23(c)(1)(B). Courts must consider (i) counsels’ work in identifying or investigating 14 claims; (ii) counsel’s experience in handling the types of claims asserted; (iii) counsel’s 15 knowledge of applicable law; and (iv) the resources counsel will commit to representing the 16 class. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(g)(1)(A). After considering competing motions, the Court appointed 17 Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy and Hausfeld LLP as Interim Co-Lead Class Counsel. See Dkt.
 18 Nos. 130, 175. “Class counsel’s competency is presumed absent specific proof to the contrary 19 by defendants.” Farley v. Baird, Patrick & Co., Inc., 90 CIV. 2168 (MBM), 1992 WL 321632, 20 at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 28, 1992). Interim Co-Lead Counsel are willing and able to vigorously 21 prosecute this action and to devote all necessary resources. The work they have done since 22 their appointment provides substantial basis for the Court’s earlier finding that they satisfy Rule 23 23(g)’s criteria. Accordingly, Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy and Hausfeld LLP should be 24 appointed as Settlement Class Counsel for purposes of these Settlements.

25 VI. PROPOSED PLAN OF NOTICE AND PLAN OF ALLOCATION

26 Rule 23(e)(1) states that, “[t]he court must direct notice in a reasonable manner to all 27 class members who would be bound by a proposed settlement, voluntary dismissal, or 28 compromise.” Plaintiffs’ counsel will submit a notice plan to the Court in the near future.

1 Plaintiffs propose that distribution of Settlement funds be deferred until the termination of the 2 case, when there may be additional settlements from remaining Defendants to distribute, and 3 because piecemeal distribution is expensive, time-consuming, and likely to cause confusion to 4 members of the Classes. Deferring allocation of settlement funds is a common practice in cases 5 where claims against other defendants remain. See Manual § 21.651. Although distribution 6 will be deferred, Plaintiffs propose notifying the Classes that distribution of funds will be made 7 on a pro rata basis. A plan of allocation that compensates members based on the type and 8 extent of their injuries is generally considered reasonable. In re Citric Acid Antitrust Litig., 145 9 F. Supp. 2d 1152, 1154 (N.D. Cal. 2001).

10 VII. NOTICE COSTS, LITIGATION EXPENSES, AND ATTORNEYS' FEES

11 Plaintiffs also move for the provisional creation of a litigation expense fund of up to $3 12 million for the reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses incurred to date, and for payment of 13 current and future out-of-pocket expenses that will be incurred, with any unused funds being 14 disbursed to the Classes. Such litigation funds have been approved in other class actions. See, 15 e.g., Newby v. Enron Corp., 394 F.3d 296, 303 (5th Cir. 2004) (affirming approval of class 16 settlement with $15 million of settlement proceeds going to a litigation expense fund); In re 17 Cal. Micro Devices Sec. Litig., 965 F. Supp. 1327, 1337 (N.D. Cal. 1997) (approving a $1.5 18 million litigation fund “[b]ecause the remainder of the case appears to have potential value for 19 the class”). Plaintiffs’ litigation fund request will be fully explained in the proposed notice 20 program.

21 Finally, Plaintiffs’ counsel do not seek attorneys’ fees at this time, but will seek a fee 22 award in conjunction with the approval of future settlements or at some other later date.
 23 Plaintiffs’ counsels’ fee request will not exceed one-third of the amount of the Settlements.

24 VIII. CONCLUSION

25 Based on the foregoing, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court: (1) grant 26 preliminary approval of the Settlement Agreements; (2) certify the Settlement Classes; and (3) 27 appoint Plaintiffs’ Interim Co-Lead Counsel as Settlement Class Counsel and named Plaintiffs 28 as Class Representatives for the Settlement Classes.
